Report of Independent Auditors

The Managing Member
American Rivers Fund, LLC

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of American Rivers Fund, LLC (the "Company"), which comprise the statements of assets, liabilities and members' equity, including the condensed schedules of investments, as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related statements of operations, changes in members' equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company at December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the results of its operations, changes in its members' equity, and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Company and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

AMERICAN RIVERS FUND, LLC
(A Limited Liability Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

(1) Organization

American Rivers Fund, LLC (the “Company”) was formed on November 7, 2018, under the Delaware Act and commenced operations on December 19, 2018 (the “Initial Closing”). The managing member of the Company is MP Louisiana, LLC (the “Managing Member”), a Delaware limited liability company. The Company is managed by Maritime Partners, LLC (the “Investment Manager”), a Delaware limited liability company.

The Company is an investment fund formed for the principal purpose of capitalizing on acquisitions and leasing opportunities in the inland marine industry by providing maritime assets and leasing solutions to the full range of market participants in the United States Jones Act trade. The Company’s investment strategy focuses on providing attractive, stable cash yields to the members of the Company (“Members”), with an emphasis on creating upside optionality while retaining disciplined downside protection principles.

The capitalized terms used within have the meanings set forth in the relevant governing documents.

The Company’s term is unlimited, and the Company will be liquidated and wound up only upon certain events of dissolution, as specified in the Second Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Operating Agreement (“Company Agreement”).

The Company has delegated various administrative duties to SS&C Technologies, Inc. as Administrator of the Company.

Members and former Members have no liability for any debt or obligation of the Company, except to the extent of their interest in the Company, nor do they have any obligation to contribute or make payments to the Company, except as provided by law or in the event that taxes withheld by the Managing Member and paid over to a taxing authority in respect of a Member exceed any distributable amounts payable to such Member.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Presentation

The Company operates as an investment company in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 946, Financial Services – Investment Companies. The Company’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“U.S. GAAP”) and are stated in the United States dollar.

(b) Investments in Special Purpose Vehicles

Investments in affiliated special purpose vehicles (“SPVs”) consist of equity interests in United States companies that invest in various types of vessels. The Company’s investments in these SPVs are stated at fair value by evaluating the fair value of the net assets of the SPVs. The net assets of each underlying SPV are valued based on each underlying investment within each SPV incorporating valuations that consider the evaluation of purchase and sale transactions with third parties, expected cash flows, market-based transactions, replacement costs and third-party appraisals, among other factors.

AMERICAN RIVERS FUND, LLC
(A Limited Liability Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

The fair values of the Company's investments in SPVs are net of third-party debt outstanding of the SPVs. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, third-party debt and interest outstanding attributable to the Company's investment in SPVs was $778,065,215 and $629,395,765, respectively. The Company served as a recourse guarantor on third-party loans in the amount of $104,560,642 as of December 31, 2024, and did not serve as a recourse guarantor on third-party loans as of December 31, 2023. Investments in SPVs are generally categorized in Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, which is further discussed in Note 4.

In accordance with ASC 946, the Company does not consolidate its investments in portfolio companies. Instead, such investments are generally reported at fair value, with changes in fair value recognized in the statement of operations.

In certain cases, SPVs are established to aggregate investments in a specific operating company or borrower. In these situations, the Company does not consolidate the SPV. Instead, it reports its investment based on the estimated value of the equity interest in the underlying portfolio company, as if the investment had been made directly. Any debt that exists at these certain SPVs is allocated to and netted against the estimated fair value of the underlying portfolio company.

(c) ARF Warehouse Holdings LLC

Effective November 22, 2024, the Company transferred its interests in American Tanker Holding Company, LLC, U.S. Marine Management, LLC, and MG Transport Holdings, LLC to ARF Warehouse Holdings LLC ("ARF Warehouse") and simultaneously entered into a warehouse loan agreement (the "Warehouse Loan Agreement") with a syndicate of lenders under which a revolving credit facility initially of up to $750 million has been made available. Under the Warehouse Loan Agreement, ARF Warehouse and certain affiliates of the aforementioned subsidiaries of the Company (collectively, the "Co-borrowers") can borrow up to a specified amount generally based on by the value of specified assets owned by the Co-borrowers. The Co-borrowers participate in the Warehouse Loan Agreement on a joint and several basis. Please refer to footnote 6(b) for additional information regarding the Warehouse Loan Agreement's terms and economics.

ARF Warehouse is not consolidated by the Company as discussed in footnote 2(b) and is not presented as a separate investment on the Company's Condensed Schedules of Investments. Instead, the net assets of ARF Warehouse are allocated among the subsidiary Co-borrowers based on the Investment Manager's determination of the appropriate economic exposure, which considers each Co-borrower's collateral contributions and facility utilization. The Investment Manager reviews and updates the allocation methodology periodically, and such allocations are used to determine fair value and reflect the Company's economic interests in the Co-borrowers, as reflected in the Condensed Schedules of Investments.

Draws on the Warehouse Loan Agreement are generally treated as returns of capital and reduce the Company's investment cost basis in the respective Co-borrowers. However, in certain instances, ARF Warehouse may borrow under the facility for the specific purpose of distributing cash from a restricted collateral account used for debt servicing. When such cash originates from investment operations rather than refinancing activity, the proceeds are recognized as dividend income in the Company's Statements of Operations.

AMERICAN RIVERS FUND, LLC
(A Limited Liability Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

Repayments under the Warehouse Loan Agreement of borrowings, interest expense, and other financing costs incurred by ARF Warehouse are not recorded directly by the Company. Instead, these are reflected through changes in the fair value of the Company's allocated investments in the subsidiary Co-borrowers. While the Company does not consolidate ARF Warehouse or the Warehouse Loan Agreement, it does provide a recourse guaranty on borrowings under the facility, which may subject the Company to potential obligations in the event of a default.

(d) Use of Estimates

The presentation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(e) Operating Expense Policy

The Company recognizes all expenses incurred in connection with its investing activities, as well as legal, accounting, tax preparation, and auditing fees on an accrual basis.

(f) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include unrestricted cash as well as money market and time deposits with maturities of three months or less from date of purchase. Balances in U.S. bank accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $250,000 per depositor, per institution. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company held cash deposits of $858,926 and $2,677,820, respectively, with financial institutions.

(g) Organizational Costs

The Company shall pay, or reimburse the Managing Member, the Investment Manager, and their respective Affiliates, for the payment of the Organizational Expenses paid through the due to affiliate on the Statement of Assets, Liabilities and Members' Equity (regardless of whether the same were incurred before or after the Initial Closing Date). Placement Fees shall be paid by the Managing Member, the Investment Manager, or an Affiliate thereof.

(h) Investment Transactions and Related Investment Income

The Company records investment transactions at trade date. Distributions from affiliated SPVs are recorded as dividend income when received to the extent such amounts are related to earnings and profits and represent cash generated from operations. Distributions in excess of earnings and profit are classified as return of capital and reduce the cost basis of the Company's investments. Unrealized appreciation on investments reflects any fair value adjustment of SPV assets and liabilities.

AMERICAN RIVERS FUND, LLC
(A Limited Liability Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

(i) Income Taxes

The Members intend that the Company shall be treated as a partnership for federal, state and local income tax purposes, and the Company shall not elect, and the Managing Member shall not permit the Company to elect, to be treated as an association taxable as a corporation for federal, state or local income tax purposes under Regulations Section 301.7701-3 or under any corresponding provision of state or local law. Each Member and the Company shall file all tax returns consistent with such treatment.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, if the Company becomes subject to any taxes as a result of any adjustment to taxable income, gain, loss, deduction or credit for any taxable years of the Company (whether pursuant to a tax audit or otherwise), each Member shall indemnify the Company and the Managing Member against any such taxes (including any interest and penalties) to the extent such taxes (or portion thereof) are properly attributable to such Member. In such event, the Managing Member, at its option, may (i) require such Member to reimburse the Company for the amount of such taxes (including interest and penalties) properly attributable to such Member (it being understood that any such reimbursement shall not constitute a Contribution and, accordingly, shall not reduce the Remaining Commitment or increase the Capital Account of such Member) or (ii) reduce any subsequent distributions to such Member by the amount of such taxes (including interest and penalties) properly attributable to such Member. In the event of any claimed over-assessment of taxes against a Member, such Member shall be limited to an action against the applicable jurisdiction and not against the Company or any Member. The Managing Member, on behalf of the Company, may take any action permitted under applicable law to avoid the assessment of any such taxes against the Company (including an election to issue adjusted Internal Revenue Service Schedule K-1s to the Members which take the relevant adjustments to taxable income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit into account).

ASC 740, Income Taxes, provides guidance on how uncertain tax positions should be recognized, measured, presented, and disclosed in the financial statements and requires evaluation of tax positions taken or expected to be taken on the Company's tax returns to determine whether the tax positions are "more-likely-than-not" of being sustained by the applicable tax authority. The Managing Member has analyzed such tax positions and has concluded that no unrecognized tax benefit should be recorded for uncertain tax position for all open tax years, which may vary from inception to date, depending on the relevant tax jurisdiction. Tax penalties and interest, if any, would be accrued as incurred and would be classified as tax expense on the statement of operations. For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company was not required to establish a liability for uncertain tax positions.

In the event the Company is audited by the taxing authority under The Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, any adjustments will generally be assessed at the Company level (tax, interest, and penalties) for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2021. The Company representative will take any and all actions permissible under The Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015. No such examinations were in process as of December 31, 2024. As of December 31, 2024, The Company is subject to examination by U.S. federal and applicable state tax authorities for tax years 2021 through 2024, which remain open under the statute of limitations.

AMERICAN RIVERS FUND, LLC
(A Limited Liability Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures. This update requires entities to disclose additional information around the effective tax rate reconciliation and income taxes paid. The guidance is effective for the Company for annual periods beginning on January 1, 2025 and early adoption is permitted. Management is evaluating the impact of this ASU to its Financial Statements upon adoption of this standard.

(3) Related Party Transactions

(a) Management Fees

Commencing with the calendar month in which the initial closing occurred, the Company pays the Investment Manager a monthly Management Fee, calculated with respect to each Member, equal to 0.125% (the monthly equivalent of 1.50% per annum) of the total Acquisition Cost of the Company's or its SPV's investments, adjusted for their relative equity interest in the investment at any time during such calendar month, multiplied by such Member's Unit Percentage as of the last day of such calendar month. Certain Members' Management Fees may be higher or lower based on the terms agreed upon.

The Management Fees incurred for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 were $31,748,527 and $18,734,261, respectively, of which $0 and $2,788,715 is reflected as management fee payable, respectively. A portion of the Management Fees are paid directly by certain portfolio investments to the Investment Manager. These fees reduce both the Management Fees and the dividend income recognized from the respective portfolio investments. For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, $8,942,223 and $0, respectively, of management fees were incurred and paid at the portfolio investment level. Management Fee offsets incurred for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 were $8,942,223 and $0, respectively. The Management Fee is payable in arrears on the last Business Day of each calendar month.

(b) Other Related Party Transactions

The Company has related party transactions with certain Members of the Company. These amounts include payments that were made on another affiliate's behalf through the normal course of business. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the due to affiliate balance was $84,704 and $0, respectively, and the due from affiliate balance was $0 and $196,920, respectively.

Maritime Partners Services, LLC ("MPS"), an affiliate of the Investment Manager that is majority-owned by the principals of the Investment Manager, manages a new vessel construction program. From time to time, MPS either sells or assigns newly constructed vessels to SPV affiliates of the Company. Such sales and assignments are made at cost, meaning neither MPS nor the Investment Manager receive any compensation or fees in connection with such transactions. While MPS generally transfers these newly constructed vessels to SPV affiliates of the Company, MPS may, at its discretion (and subject to applicable governing documents), sell newly constructed vessels to third-party purchasers. During the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company, through its affiliated SPVs, acquired vessels at cost from MPS totaling approximately $61.4 million and $49.9 million, respectively.

(4) Investments

(c) Fair Value of Investments

In accordance with ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, the Company's investments are recorded at fair value, which is the price that would be received upon the sale of an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (exit price). Due to the inherent uncertainty of valuations of investments that are determined to be illiquid and/or do not have readily ascertainable fair values, the estimates of fair value may differ from the values ultimately realized by the Company, and those differences could be material.

In accordance with ASC 820, the Company classifies its investments in three levels of the fair value hierarchy as described below:

Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Quoted prices for similar items in active markets or quoted prices for identical or similar items in markets that are not active, for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 – Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurements and are unobservable.

The Company's investments in the SPVs are classified as Level 3 at December 31, 2024 and 2023. The hierarchy established under ASC 820 gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets of identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3). The Company's investments are classified within the fair value hierarchy based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The inputs or methodology used for valuing investments are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those investments.

During the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company purchased $40,736,354 and $1,100,621,069 of Level 3 investments, respectively. There were no transfers into or out of Level 3 during the years ended December 31, 2024 or 2023.

The Company's investments in the SPVs are stated at fair value by evaluating the fair value of the net assets of the SPVs (the "Equity Value"). The carrying value of the SPVs assets and liabilities such as cash, accounts receivable, other current assets, accrued expenses, loans and other liabilities are considered to be representative of their respective fair value given their short-term nature and the frequency of their settlement. The valuation of vessel assets considers valuations performed by independent third parties and includes (1) market approach whereby fair value is derived by reference to observable valuation measures for comparable assets (2) income approach (e.g. the discounted cash flow valuation technique, which takes into consideration current lease rates, lease renewal rates, scrap value of vessels, discount rates, and maintenance expense), and (3) cost approach which represents current replacement cost less loss of value caused by deterioration/obsolescence. Management has also corroborated the valuation of vessels based on various factors, including the expected cash flows, market-based transactions, and recent leasing comparables.

The Company's investments in operating companies are stated at fair value based on enterprise value methodologies that consider the underlying performance and financial position of each portfolio company. The carrying values of short-term assets and liabilities, such as cash, receivables, payables, and other current balances, are considered representative of fair value due to their short duration and settlement cycle. Valuation techniques applied to operating companies incorporate both company-specific data and market-based inputs, and may include: (1) Market approach, using valuation multiples (e.g., EV/EBITDA) derived from guideline public companies and recent comparable transactions, (2) Income approach, based on discounted cash flow analyses incorporating projected earnings, terminal value assumptions, and discount rates reflective of market risks and company-specific factors; and (3) Asset-based approach, where appropriate, valuing the individual net assets of the Company. Management evaluates the reasonableness of fair value estimates by considering recent transaction activity, operating performance trends, and industry developments relevant to each investment.

(5) Risks and Uncertainties

In the normal course of business, the Company encounters different kinds of risk ranging from risks associated with the Company's management and operations, risk associated with the Company's investment and investment structure, leverage risk, risk associated with markets and the economy, risk associated with regulatory and compliance matters, and risks factors relating to tax and accounting considerations.

Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

Risk associated with the Company's investment and investment structure include the uncertainty of future investments are unspecified, investment performance, uncertain asset valuations, lack of diversification, capital raise, expedited investment decisions, long-term investment strategy, illiquidity of investments, fraud, counterparty risk, insurance, contingent liabilities on disposition of investments, competitive market, certain effects on default and bankruptcy, third-party involvement, availability of qualified operators, construction risks, regulatory risks, operating and technical risks, environmental risks, catastrophic and force majeure events; adequacy and availability of insurance, litigation, documentation risks, charter rates, vessel values, terrorism and international hostilities, charter renewal or replacement, technological innovation, requisition, and arrest of vessels. Leverage risks can be caused from the risks of leverage, and requirements of financing documents. Risks associated with markets and the economy can be due from changes in market circumstances and infrastructure risks. Risks associated with regulatory and compliance matters can be caused by regulation, Members' restrictions, and public disclosure obligations.

(6) Debt Facilities

(a) East West Bank Credit Facility

On December 20, 2022, the Company entered into a loan and security agreement and guaranty with East West Bank ("EWB") which provides a $75,000,000 credit facility to the Company with an initial maturity date of December 20, 2023. The Company shall have the option to extend the maturity date from time to time (but not more than once during any twelve-month term and not more than two times during the term of the agreement, with each such additional term not to exceed twelve months, subject to satisfaction of the conditions with EWB). On December 20, 2023, the Company renewed its agreement with EWB for twelve months, to mature on December 20, 2024. On December 20, 2024, the Company renewed its agreement with EWB for twelve months, to mature on December 20, 2025.

On April 1, 2024, the Company temporarily increased the credit facility to $100,000,000 with an incremental $25,000,000 with an initial maturity date of October 1, 2024, and subsequently extended through November 30, 2024, at which time the credit facility capacity reverted to $75,000,000. During the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company drew down $66,096,376 and $116,788,476, respectively, under the agreement with EWB and repaid $111,356,376 and $60,749,476, respectively. The Company's prime-based advances shall bear interest, on the outstanding daily balance thereof, at the greater of a floating rate of interest equal to the prime-based rate or 7.00%, and the term secured overnight financing rate ("SOFR") advances shall bear interest, on the outstanding daily balance thereof, at the greater of a rate of interest equal to the term SOFR-based rate or 7.00%. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the average EWB balance was $67,456,157 and $12,610,565, respectively, and the interest paid on this agreement was $5,659,174 and $1,397,613, respectively. The interest payable as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $15,223 and $94,914, respectively.

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

An unused fee is charged on this credit facility with EWB, equal to (i) if the average quarterly balance is less than 25.00% of the total revolving commitments, 0.35% per annum times the difference between the total revolving commitments and the average quarterly balance, (ii) if the average quarterly balance is equal to or greater than 25.00%, but less than 50.00% of the total revolving commitments, 0.25% per annum times the difference between the total revolving commitments and the average quarterly balance, and (iii) if the average quarterly balance is equal to or greater than 50.00% of the total revolving commitments, 0.15% per annum times the difference between the total revolving commitments and the average quarterly balance, which fee shall be payable quarterly in arrears within five (5) business days after receipt of an invoice therefor sent after the last day of each such quarter and shall be nonrefundable. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company was in compliance with all covenants.

(b) ARF Warehouse Loan Agreement

As discussed in footnote 2(c), on November 22, 2024, ARF Warehouse and the Co-borrowers entered into a $750 million Warehouse Loan Agreement with Atlas Securitized Products Funding I, L.P., Deutsche Bank AG, and Goldman Sachs Bank USA. The Warehouse Loan Agreement is secured by certain portfolio vessels owned by each Co-borrower. The Warehouse Loan Agreement permits repayments on the facility without penalty or reduction of borrowing capacity until November 22, 2027 (the “Revolver Period”), during which the Co-borrowers are required to make monthly interest-only payments on the outstanding balance. Upon the termination of the Revolver Period, the Warehouse Loan Agreement shall amortize monthly at an annual rate of 6.0% of the outstanding Warehouse Loan Agreement balance until the maturity date of November 22, 2029.

The Warehouse Loan Agreement accrues interest at the 30-day term SOFR plus 3.10% and an applicable step-up margin, which is 0.0% until November 22, 2027, increases to 1.0% until November 22, 2028, and increases to 1.5% thereafter. For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, the average Warehouse Loan Agreement balance was $9,884,194 and $0, respectively, and the interest paid was $175,854 and $0 at an average interest rate of 7.66% and 0.0%, respectively. The interest rate as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was 7.65% and 0.0%, and interest payable as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $616,353 and $0, respectively.

During the Revolver Period, each draw down on the Warehouse Loan incurs a 0.50% fee on the gross amount of the respective draw. During the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Co-borrowers drew down $104,540,642 and $0, respectively, on the Warehouse Loan Agreement and incurred draw down fees in the amount of $522,803 and $0, respectively. The Warehouse Loan Agreement and its related transactions are recorded as part of Investments at fair value on the Statements of Assets, Liabilities, and Members’ Equity.

The Company has provided a recourse guaranty in connection with the Warehouse Loan Agreement. Under the terms of the guaranty, the Company obligates itself to pay, if required, any amounts – including principal, interest, fees, and related charges – that the Co-borrowers fail to pay under the Warehouse Loan Agreement. The guaranty remains in effect until the maturity date of the Warehouse Loan Agreement. During the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Co-borrowers and the Company were in compliance with all covenants in connection with the Warehouse Loan Agreement.

(7) Company Capital

(a) Contributions

As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company's total committed capital from Members was $1,741,606,095 and $1,765,155,699, respectively. The Members' total amount contributed net of withdrawals to the Company from inception through December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $1,590,572,210 and $1,614,121,814, respectively, representing 91.33% and 91.44% of total committed capital, respectively. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Members' aggregate capital contributions have been applied toward the total committed capital, resulting in an unfunded commitment of $151,033,885, representing 8.67% and 8.56% of total committed capital as of each respective date.

(b) Subsequent Closings

The Company may accept subscriptions for additional Commitments at any time following the initial closing ("Additional Commitments"), upon the approval of the Investment Manager; provided, however, that the Investment Manager will not hold a subsequent closing for the acceptance of Additional Commitments unless at least 70% of the total Commitments whose Investment Periods have not previously expired have been invested or reserved for investments as to which the Company has committed in a letter of intent or definitive agreement or used to pay or reserved for the payment of actual or reasonably anticipated Company expenses (including Management Fees). For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company's subsequent closing amounts were $0 and $641,225,000, respectively.

(c) Withdrawals

Prior to (i) December 1, 2021 in the case of the Managing Member and the other Members being admitted to the Company as of the initial closing date and (ii) the December 1 which first occurs after the third anniversary of its admission to the Company in the case of any other Member, no Member shall have the right to withdraw from the Company. Subsequent to the aforementioned dates, Members can withdraw during the month of December of each year upon delivery of Redemption Notice to the Managing Member. In addition, Members may withdraw prior to the three-year anniversary of their admission to the Company, if continuing investment in the Company would result in violation of applicable law, rule or regulation that authorizes or governs such Members' investments in the Company. During the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, Members withdrew $18,393,874 and $13,466,545, respectively, pursuant to this latter clause of Article XV of the Company Agreement. The Withdrawal Date shall be effected as of the close of business on the last day of the Fiscal Year during which such Redemption Notice Period occurs, and the Member withdrawal payable shall be paid out in four installments over the course of the subsequent calendar year.

(8) Distributions and Allocations

(a) Distributions

Each distribution of Current Proceeds or Disposition Proceeds shall initially be apportioned for distribution (but not actually distributed) to the Managing Member and the other Members in proportion to their respective Unit Percentages with respect to such Portfolio Investment as of the date of such apportionment. Except as otherwise provided herein, the amount of such distribution apportioned to the Managing Member (determined as provided in the immediately preceding sentence) shall be distributed to the Managing Member.

(i) Prior to the date on which the dissolution of the Company has occurred pursuant to Article XII, all distributions during any calendar year of Current Proceeds apportioned to a Member shall be distributed between such Member and the Managing Member as follows:

(A) first, 100% to such Member, until it has received aggregate distributions of Current Proceeds during such calendar year equal to 7% of such Member's Weighted Invested Capital;

(B) second, 100% to such Member, until it has received aggregate distributions of Current Proceeds during such calendar year equal to any shortfall in the amount distributed to it pursuant to clause (A) in any prior calendar year (and not previously distributed to it pursuant to this clause (B));

(C) third, 50% to such Member and 50% to the Managing Member, until the Managing Member has received aggregate distributions with respect to such Member under this subsection (i) equal to 20% of all distributions received by such Member and the Managing Member under clauses (A) through (C) of this subsection (i); and

(D) thereafter, any remaining amount 80% to such Member and 20% to the Managing Member.

For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, total distributions of Current Proceeds made to the Members were $157,944,804 and $85,745,883, respectively, and $35,607,288 and $21,436,461 was paid to the Managing Member as realized Carried Interest, respectively.

(ii) All distributions of Disposition Proceeds apportioned to a Member, and all distributions of Current Proceeds apportioned to a Member and distributed on or after the date on which the dissolution of the Company has occurred pursuant to Article XII, shall be distributed between such Member and the Managing Member as follows:

(A) first, 100% to such Member, until such Member has received aggregate distributions under this clause (A) equal to such Member's aggregate Contributions;

(B) second, 100% to such Member, until the cumulative distributions to such Member under clauses (A) and (B) of subsection (i) above and this clause (B) are equal to 7% per annum of such Member's Weighted Invested Capital, as computed during the period from the later of (A) January 1, 2019, and (B) the Subsequent Closing Date on which such Member was admitted to the Company (or, in the case of an Increased Member, with respect to Contributions made pursuant to the increased portion of its Commitment, the Subsequent Closing Date on which it so increased its Commitment), through the date of such distribution;

AMERICAN RIVERS FUND, LLC
(A Limited Liability Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

(C) third, 50% to such Member and 50% to the Managing Member, until the Managing Member has received aggregate distributions with respect to such Member under clause (C) of subsection (i) above and this clause (C) equal to 20% of all distributions received by such Member and the Managing Member under clauses (A) through (C) of subsection (i) above and clauses (B) and (C) of this subsection (ii); and

(D) thereafter, 80% to such Member and 20% to the Managing Member.

For purposes of the above-described computations, a Member's "Weighted Invested Capital" will mean, for any applicable calendar year or other relevant period, the daily average for such period of such Member's invested capital.

For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, total distributions of Disposition Proceeds made to the Members were $463,035 and $0, respectively. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, cumulative unrealized Carried Interest of $39,363,378 and $41,075,599, respectively, was allocated to the Managing Member.

(b) Allocation of Company Income and Losses

The Company's income, gains, losses, deductions, and credits will be allocated among the Members so as to conform, in the judgment of the Managing Member, as nearly as practicable to the related distributions or expected distributions as described above.

The Company calculates Members' Net Asset Value ("NAV") per Unit on a quarterly basis. Units are issued to Members when their capital commitments are drawn down at the NAV per Unit in place at the time that the applicable commitment was accepted. If the NAV per Unit changes as of any quarter-end after the commitment was accepted, this change does not impact the price at which the Units are issued to the applicable Member when the commitment is drawn down. In accordance with the Company Agreement, profit and loss are allocated to each Member is adjusted to equalize the NAV per Unit across all Members' capital accounts as of the end of each calendar quarter or other relevant period. Management fees are allocated amongst the Members in accordance with their respective amounts and their economic effect remains with the respective Member.

(9) Members' Units

Each Unit issued to an Additional Member or Increased Member in respect of their Contributions (or the Contributions made in respect of the increased portion of its Commitment, in the case of an Increased Member) shall be issued at the price equal to the NAV per Unit as of the close of business on the last Business Day of the calendar quarter immediately preceding the Subsequent Closing Date on which such Additional Member was admitted to the Company or such Increased Member increased its Commitment (as such NAV per Unit may be adjusted by the Managing Member in its reasonable judgment to reflect any distributions of Disposition Proceeds made to the Members subsequent to such last Business Day).

AMERICAN RIVERS FUND, LLC
(A Limited Liability Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended December 31, 2024 and 2023

Units are withdrawn from the Company in accordance with Article XV of the Company Agreement. Each Unit withdrawn is valued at the NAV per Unit as of September 30 immediately preceding the applicable Withdrawal Date (the “Redemption Price”). The Manager may, in its reasonable discretion, adjust the Redemption Price to reflect any distributions of Disposition Proceeds to Members and certain expense adjustments incurred by the Company between September 30 and December 31 of the applicable withdrawal year. The Withdrawal Date is effective as of December 31 of the year in which a valid Redemption Notice is received.

During the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, transactions in Members’ Units and Units outstanding at December 31, 2024 and 2023 were as follows:

	2024		2023
	Members’ Units		Members’ Units
Beginning Units	1,197,229.08	Beginning Units	593,912.14
Units Issued	-	Units Issued	612,240.37
Units Withdrawn	(12,201.92)	Units Withdrawn	(8,923.43)
Ending Units	1,185,027.16	Ending Units	1,197,229.08

(10) Financial Highlights

The following financial highlights are being presented in accordance with the requirements of ASC 946, Financial Services – Investment Companies.

The following represents the total rate of return (“ROR”) of the Members of the Company:

Total ROR	2024	2023
Total ROR before Carried Interest allocation	10.06%	18.49%
Carried Interest allocation	(1.82)%	(3.24)%
Total ROR after Carried Interest allocation	8.24%	15.25%

Total ROR is calculated for the Company as a whole. Total ROR prior to the allocation of Carried Interest is computed based on the change in net assets resulting from operations, adjusted for the timing and amount of capital contributions made by and distributions and withdrawals made to Members during the period. When capital activity occurs within a reporting period, total ROR is calculated using adjusted net assets to reflect the interim impact of such transactions. An individual Member’s ROR may vary based on the timing of their Unit transactions, as well as their applicable Management Fee rate.
